CONDITIONS OF ENTRY

1. All entrants, excluding juniors, must be financial members of QGSA Inc. or of an affiliated group. Junior entrants do not need to be financial members but must be sponsored by a financial member.
2. Entry can only be made online using the Festival of Quilts entry form accessible through the link provided on the Guild website. The entry process requires uploading of a digital photograph of up to 5MB of the actual entry. A photograph of an accurate drawing is permissible.
3. Any entrant may submit a maximum of 5 entries, including quilts for judging or display only. Acceptance does not automatically guarantee display. All entries must be clean and odour-free.
4. A non-refundable entry fee of $15.00 (includes GST) is payable for each entry, whether it be for judging or for display only. (Refer to Online Entry Form Guidelines in this Handbook.) The receipt number will be required during the online entry process. Junior entrants are entitled to free entry; however, they must be sponsored by a current Guild member.
5. Entrants will receive by email a Letter of Acknowledgement shortly after submission of the entry; quilt delivery and return instructions, will be included in that email. In addition, a separate email will contain a summary of information submitted in the entry. The letters contain important information, so please read both emails carefully.
6. Country, interstate and overseas entrants will be expected to pay forward and return postage/freight. QGSA Inc. will not be responsible for any damage or loss in transit.
7. QGSA Inc. reserves the right to photograph all items for its archives, for publication and for other appropriate purposes. Visitors to the exhibition are also permitted to photograph entries for personal use and to post images online or in social media, provided the quiltmaker/s and designer/s (if applicable) are acknowledged.
8. Should any copyright material be used, it is the responsibility of the entrant to obtain permission from, and pay any fees to, the copyright holder. QGSA Inc. does not take any responsibility for any consequences should the entrant not have gained permission to exhibit. For more detail, see page 7.
9. Whilst in the possession of QGSA Inc., entries will be covered by the terms of the QGSA Inc.'s insurance, to a value up to $10,000. Insurance beyond this amount is the responsibility of the owner. For quilts which have not been formally valued, as a rough indication, the value can be calculated at five times the costs incurred in the construction of the entry.
10. Every care will be taken with the entries, but no responsibility can be assumed by QGSA Inc. or its officials. Special handling cannot be accommodated.
11. The judges' decisions are final, and no correspondence will be entered into.

14. Quilter Status Definitions

AMATEUR: Open to all financial members and affiliate groups of QGSA Inc. who do not meet the criteria for a Professional (see below).

PROFESSIONAL: Defined as someone who satisfies one or more of the following conditions:

- has won Best of Show or two or more Blue Ribbons/Excellence in Hand or Machine Quilting Special Awards in a major judged competition, excluding Viewers' Choice, or
- has financial involvement, teaches or publishes in any medium in the field of quilting, or
- sells, designs or participates in any aspect of making quilts for ongoing financial gain.

15. Any entrant entering a winning quilt as an 'Amateur' and who is found to have previously won two Blue Ribbons or a Best of Show will forfeit their award and prize, including after the Exhibition.
16. Entrants who have won Blue Ribbons as a Junior revert to amateur status once they turn 19 years of age.
17. Quilts that have been displayed at previous Festival of Quilts SA exhibitions are ineligible for entry, with the exception of those which were part of a special exhibition.
18. A collaborative quilt is one in which two or more quilters have been equally involved in the making of the quilt and no payments for work have been made.

All quilters must be financial members of QGSA Inc. or of an affiliated group. Where a quilt has been made by two persons, details for both should be entered in the online form. If more than two people have collaborated on an entry, this can be indicated on the entry form. Details for two participants should be entered; the Festival of Quilts Committee will contact the primary entrant to ascertain the names and membership numbers of all remaining participants after the entry form has been submitted.

19. A quilt is defined as three layers of fabric held together with stitching. A quilt must not be in a rigid frame or be under glass. Quilting must be visible on the back of the quilt (i.e.: no false backs), with the exception of entries in the Art – Abstract/Representational or Art – Pictorial/Realistic categories.

No fabrics or embellishments that may transfer to other quilts are to be used, e.g., glitter etc.

20. The quilt, including piecing, quilting and binding must be the work of the nominated quilt maker(s).
22. The size of entries must be stated in centimetres. It is essential that quilts be measured accurately. The length of any side of a quilt (or set of quilts) must not exceed 290cm. A set of quilts (e.g., a pair or triptych) is one entry.
23. All quilts must be submitted with a sleeve on the back to a finished depth of 8cm. Further details can be found in this Handbook under Preparing a Quilt for Exhibition (page 9). Entries which do not have an appropriate sleeve will be disqualified from judging and will not be hung in the exhibition.
24. A label stating the name of the entrant and title of the quilt must be securely sewn to the back of the quilt in the lower left-hand corner (as viewed from the back). In addition, another label stating the entry number (on the emailed Letter of Acknowledgement) must be safety pinned over the name label to obscure any identifying information. Further details can be found under Preparing a Quilt for Exhibition (page 11).
25. Each quilt must be in its own fabric bag (no plastic bags or pillowcases) with the same details as the quilt label, including the entry number, clearly marked on the bag. Further details can be found in this Handbook under Preparing a Quilt for Exhibition (page 10) and via a link on the FoQ webpage:
<https://www.saquilters.org.au/foqexhibition.htm>.

Rolled quilts, quilts in tubing, or quilts that require special handling, will not be accepted.

All quilts will be folded as part of the process of handling quilts from judging through to hanging at the Exhibition.

26. Social media: In an effort to make the judging process as fair as possible it will be appreciated that no quilt entered for judging, or portion thereof, be displayed on social media prior to judging.
27. South Australian Best of Show/Best of State Definitions and Conditions

Best of Show will be awarded to any quilt regardless of the maker's address. The Best of Show prize will be a Bernina Sewing Machine.

If the Best of Show winner does not reside in SA, a Best of State prize will also be awarded.

Best of Show/Best of State winner(s) are encouraged to spend time with their quilt during the show. Free entry to the Festival of Quilts will be provided for this purpose.

SPECIAL AWARDS

The following special awards are offered for quilts entered in any category:

Retaining the Tradition	Best Use of Colour

DESIGN SOURCE AND COPYRIGHT

Copyright and Design Attribution – please read CAREFULLY

Australian Copyright Law protects the intellectual property and creative skills of quilt designers and all creative content producers. In all cases where your quilt involves someone else's creative work, you must always provide full and proper attribution of the source, and in some cases, obtain explicit permission to display your work.

If you have used a purchased pattern from any source (including kits and BoM), a pattern from a publication, or from a workshop, you have purchased the right to use the pattern for personal use, including the right to display your quilt in an exhibition. You do not need to seek copyright permission to enter the exhibition, however, your right to display generally is dependent on full acknowledgement of the design source being made. Failure to do so would constitute a breach of copyright.

If you have copied or altered an original design/photo you have seen (e.g., at a show, on the internet/social media) without a pattern, even where none exists, you are in breach of copyright. To display such a quilt in the Festival of Quilts you will need express permission from the owner of the quilt/photo/intellectual property in advance. This applies even if you have changed elements of the original such as technique, layout, colour or size, or drafted the pattern yourself.

QGSA and Festival of Quilts SA takes no responsibility for copyright breaches by exhibitors, or the consequences thereof should legal action be launched against an exhibitor for copyright infringement. Remember, your quilt may be spotted anywhere in the world on social media, even well into the future.

In the entry process, you will be asked to select a description which best describes the extent of your creative input in the design of your quilt. The following is a guide to making the most appropriate choice.

My own design: This applies if the design is entirely your own, including a design you have adapted from a photograph or artwork which is also your own original work. If this is the case, you can claim copyright as the design is yours alone, not an adaptation of someone else's. It is advisable to keep evidence of your design process and inspiration source to justify your claim of originality.

A traditional design, or my version of it: Choose this for quilts based on traditional blocks which are generally regarded as being in the public domain for which you have made your own decisions in fabric selection, layout, setting and borders. You may have drafted the pattern yourself, however, if you have used a book or other source to assist in cutting the blocks, mention that in your Technical Specifications or Personal Statement. Copyright permission is not required, but the information may be of interest to other quilters reading the exhibition quilt card. Please note, "publicly available" is not the same thing as "in the public domain".

Someone else's design: The sources for these quilts are many and varied, and include the following:

- a purchased pattern, or one from a book, magazine, website, or computer software, which you have followed with minimal variation, and for the most part following the fabric choices or colour recommendations of the pattern
- a historical quilt, to which you have made no, or only minimal, variation

- items made in a class or workshop, including online, in which the pattern was provided and was an essential part of the class, as opposed to a technique which you apply to your own design
- a kit, a Block of the Month program for which fabrics are provided, or fabric packs made up to be used with a specific pattern or design

My version of someone else's design: This applies for quilts based on any of the sources listed above for which you have made your own choices with respect to design elements, perhaps with significant variations to the pattern. It also applies to an adaptation of someone else's work in another medium, for example a work of art, a photograph, a mosaic or leadlight panel, a different quilt making technique. If you have developed a design which incorporates a substantial part (important, distinctive, or recognisable) of someone else's work, select this option as your design source and obtain copyright permission.

In any other case, where some other person or organisation holds the copyright over the design, whether it constitutes the whole or only part of the design of your quilt, you must seek their permission to display your quilt. Entrants will not be asked to show proof of copyright observance on the online entry form, however you will be asked to declare, as part of the entry process, that you have complied with copyright requirements. Failure to comply with Australian Copyright law may render your entry ineligible for judging or display and/or expose you to risk of litigation.

Strategies for seeking and documenting permission to use copyright material include:

- Look for a copyright notice on the material in the first instance.
- Conduct an Internet search to find the copyright owner.
- Approach the gallery or museum that holds the item.
- Approach the publisher for permission.
- Make a direct approach to the copyright owner.
- Get the permission in writing where possible.
- If the permission is verbal, document the conversation in writing.

Document any permission request in writing for your own records.

For up-to-date information relating to copyright, please access <http://www.copyright.org.au>.

QUILT APPRAISALS

As part of the entry process, the value of a quilt is required information for insurance purposes during the exhibition. Please note that we can only cover up to $10,000 per item. Any amount above this should be covered by a personal insurance policy.

The Festival of Quilts Committee recommends that quilts are appraised before entering the exhibition. An appraisal certificate authenticates the value of a quilt for insurance purposes. If a quilt wins a major prize or is selected to travel interstate, it must be appraised.

The Appraisal Panel meets on the Friday immediately after monthly Guild meetings in February, April, June, August, October, and December. Make sure to book quilts well in advance of appraisal day as application forms must be submitted two weeks prior to the day.

A fee of $20.00 for members or $30.00 for affiliated members or affiliated groups applies.

For application forms and general enquiries, please contact

Heather Ford
Appraisal Panel Co-ordinator

QUILTS OFFERED FOR SALE

If you wish to offer your quilt for sale, a note to that effect will be added to the quilt's display card. A list of those quilts will be located at the Guild table, where prospective purchasers can request contact details for the quiltmaker.

Thereafter, the parties must come to their own mutually acceptable arrangements regarding any sale. The QGSA and the Festival of Quilts will have no further role in any subsequent dealings between a quilt owner and any prospective purchasers.

You are strongly advised to have your quilt appraised before the show. For further information, see Quilt Appraisals on Page 8.

PREPARING A QUILT FOR EXHIBITION

A HANGING SLEEVE FOR QUILTS

For Quilters' Guild of SA Inc. exhibitions, a hanging sleeve of at least 3¼" (8cm) finished is required. This is necessary to accommodate, without forcing, the diameter of the hanging rods.

Please note: Only one sleeve permitted per quilt. Split hanging sleeves must not be used.

Suggested methods for attaching a hanging sleeve:

A: Sew on a sleeve while binding the quilt

A hanging sleeve can be sewn to the top of the quilt at the same time as the binding is attached.

Make a strip of sleeve fabric 7-8" (18-20cms) wide and the same width as the quilt.

Fold under short edges ¼" (6mm), wrong sides together. Press and sew a straight or zigzag seam to hem the ends.

Fold the strip lengthwise, wrong sides together, aligning the raw edges.

Centre the folded strip along the top edge of the quilt, against the backing, aligning the matched raw edges with the edge of the quilt. Pin in place.

Add binding and stitch in place through all layers.

Smooth the sleeve downward along the quilt back, then make a ½" (12mm) fold along its length to create a pleat. Leaving the pleat intact, pin the lower edge of the sleeve to the quilt.

Hand stitch the lower edge of the sleeve to the quilt stitching through to the batting occasionally.

Hand stitch the back of the side edges of the sleeve tube to the quilt so that hanging poles can be cleanly inserted.

B: Sew on a sleeve after binding the quilt

Make a strip of sleeve fabric 7-8" (18-20cms) wide and the same width as the quilt.

Fold under short edges ¼" (6mm), wrong sides together. Press and sew a straight or zigzag seam to hem the ends.

Fold the strip lengthwise, wrong sides together, aligning the raw edges. Sew together with a ½" (12mm) seam allowance. Press the seam allowance open.

Place the open seam against the quilt's back. Centre and pin the top edge of the tube to the back of the quilt, about ½" (12mm) below the binding.

Use a hand stitch to sew the top edge of the tube to the quilt backing at the stitched edge of the binding. Stitch into the batting occasionally to help strengthen the seam.

Smooth the sleeve downward along the quilt back, then make a ½" (12mm) upwards fold along its length to create a pleat (about up to the top edge of the binding). Leaving the pleat intact, pin the lower edge of the sleeve to the quilt.

Hand stitch the lower edge of the sleeve to the quilt. Stitch the back, side edges of the sleeve to the quilt. Leave the front sides unsewn to allow for rod insertion.

CLOTH BAGS FOR QUILTS

Fabric and Size

Please find or make a bag that comfortably accommodates the quilt. There should be room around all sides and the bag should totally enclose the quilt (with a zippered fastening).

Fabric for the bag should be sturdy – calico, pre-quilted cottons, furnishing fabrics, preferably in plain colours, which are more easily identified by the handlers, as the identification numbers show up well.

Closures and Handles

Zip closures are required. Buttons, toggles, drawstrings, or velcro-type are not suitable.

All bags should have handles for ease of carrying but keep them simple and not too long.

Bag Label

Make sure the bag is labelled with name, address, quilt name and entry number clearly visible on the front.

Folding Quilts to Fit into the Bag

When quilts are removed from their bags for hanging, some may display unsightly folds and creases. These may disappear after a day's hanging, but this might not be before the judges get to see it. Some quilts, unfortunately, retain their creases for the entire duration of the show. To minimize creasing, fold quilts with the first and second folds horizontally, and then subsequent folds vertically. In this way, the weight of the quilt should assist the most obvious creases to fall out. It may also help to fold the quilt with the right side outwards, so that the sharpest crease is on the back.

Delicate Quilts

Whilst every care is taken with the handling of quilts, please be aware that quilts will be folded and stacked on judging day in accordance with correct judging procedure. Special handling or folding requests cannot be accommodated.

PILLOWCASES ARE NOT TO BE USED. They do not have proper closures and they may present a health hazard.

QUILT LABELS

Securely attached quilt labels are necessary for identification of quilts during the Festival of Quilts. A label with the minimum of the quilt maker's name and the quilt's title is required to be located in the bottom left-hand corner of the quilt back (as seen when looking at the back of the quilt).

You may add further information to your label as you choose. While not necessary for FoQ, it is always a good idea to also label your quilt with other information such as care instructions and provenance; suggestions for permanent quilt labels can be found via the FoQ webpage: <https://www.saquilters.org.au/foqexhibition.htm>.

Once you have labelled your quilt, the label must be temporarily covered with your entry number. During judging, all identifying labels need to be covered to ensure anonymity and judges' impartiality. Create a neat, plain-coloured fabric square/rectangle to fit over your label with your entry number clearly written on it in the middle. Write this entry number directly onto your label cover, but please add the number before pinning to avoid permanent marker accidents! Pin the numbered cover over your label with safety pins at each corner.

All names or signatures appearing on the front of the quilt (or visible anywhere else) must also be covered.
